Sept 28th 2011 – Updated Reunion Attendees list.

Sept 25th 2011 – The service that hosts our website was hacked by replacing the Home Pages of several hundred websites, including ours. The Hosting Service repaired the problem and thinks the hacker's goal was simply to deface websites. While the security implications of this type of attack are always a concern, we don't feel that it was directed at the class website or that any data was lost or endangered. The information provided by the hosting service can be read at:

<http://www.inmotionhosting.com/20110925-systems-announcement.html>

and if you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to email us at info@bchs1961.org.

This incident is unrelated to our site password change which was necessitated by the username/password combo being inadvertently published on the Class of '60 website as part of an invitation to join us at our Reunion. Its publication made the username/password Google searchable.
